It’s Time to Help Those Who Help Others

Over the past year, charities and nonprofits across Canada have expanded their programs.

Increased their services.

Connected with those isolated by the pandemic.

Supported families in crisis.

Kept our communities strong.

Your favourite cause—however it helps—has kept working to change the world, improving trust and strengthening communities across Canada.

Give to your favourite charity or nonprofit, and help those who helped—and continue to help—others!
